

HR 3, 1973; HR 34, 1997, eff. May 6, 1997.

Rule 8.9. Three readings of bills required

No bill or joint resolution shall be finally passed by the House of Representatives unless it has been read in open session of the House on three different days.

HR 3, 1973.

Rule 8.10. Bills; First Reading

Upon introduction in the case of legislative instruments originating in the House and after receipt in the House, in the case of Senate instruments, each bill or joint resolution shall be read for the first time, which reading shall be for information, and each such bill or joint resolution then shall be placed on the calendar for its second reading in its regular order.

HR 3, 1973.

Rule 8.14. Committee report required

A. No bill or joint resolution originating in the House shall be engrossed and passed to third reading unless it has been reported by a committee.

B. Except for bills referred to the Legislative Bureau in accordance with House Rule 7.20, no Senate bill or joint resolution shall be passed to its third reading unless it has been reported by a committee.

Rule 8.16. Passage to Third Reading

A. The final question on the second reading of every legislative instrument originating in the House shall be whether it shall be engrossed and passed to a third reading.

B. The final question on the second reading of every legislative instrument originating in the Senate shall be whether it shall be passed to a third reading.

HR 3, 1973; HR 45, 1998, eff. May 20, 1998.